Armed Bandit Escapes With $200

Gas Furnace Stolen From House; Rabbits, 5 Autos among Loot

An armed bandit escaped with $200, a furnace was taken from a house, 10 rabbits were stolen and four of five stolen vehicles were found as 18 cases of theft and burglary were reported to Quad-City and Madison county authorities during the weekend.

An armed bandit obtained $200 at the Ramsey Market grocery store, 2459 Benton street, at 5:45 p.m. Friday.

Brandishing a black .38-caliber sub-compact revolver, the robber was described as 35 to 40 years old, five feet seven inches tall and weighing 160 pounds. His hair was dark, and his clothing included a checked sport jacket and tie.

The money consisted of $180 in bills and $20 in rolls of coins. The grocery is operated by Gerald Ramsey, and Mrs. Hazel Thurau, 2516 Center street, was on duty at the time.

The bandit came up an aisle and asked for apples. He obtained two apples and, upon reaching the checkout area, drew the gun.

Told, "This is a robbery," Mrs. Thurau gave him money from the cash register. Asking, "Is this all?" he was told that it was.

Then he asked, "Where's the safe?" Informed the store has no safe, he departed.

Furnace Stolen From Home
A new $800 gas furnace was stolen from the home of Henry Sanders, 211 Allen street, Eagle Park, while he was away from home during the past three weeks, the sheriff's office was notified at 6:35 a.m. Saturday.

Wiring and connections were cut to enable the furnace to be removed. The intruders also ransacked drawers and removed an icebox.

Ten rabbits were stolen from a hutch in the yard at the home of Terence C. Tolen, 2626 Iowa street, he reported at 9:55 a.m. Sunday. One rabbit was black with two white front feet, one was grown and all white, five were young and all white and three were young and all black.

Separate Groups Meet Today on MHS Problems

Two separate meetings to discuss means of resolving problems that resulted last week in racial tension at Madison high school were held today.

A delegation of parents representing white students met with Francis Dent, principal of the high school, in a discussion of "complaints growing out of last week's protests" by Negro students sometimes shouted slogans of "black power."

The other session today was a "follow-up meeting" of a delegation of parents of Negro students and representatives of the Madison branch of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People, with Raymond Dragich, Madison superintendent of schools. The same group discussed the same issues last Thursday.

Dragich said the meeting at his office consisted of further discussion of issues which resulted in the protests by Negro students and reassurances

Carbon Monoxide Hits Family of 7 At Home Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leonard and their five children, 2109 Elm avenue, suffered carbon monoxide poisoning in their home early Sunday and were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment at 9 a.m.

All had headaches when they woke up. The cause apparently was a defective heating system. A fan on a gas furnace spread the fumes through the house, it was learned.

Oxygen was administered to all of them, and four of the family was admitted to the hospital. They are the mother, Mrs. Donna Leonard, 30, and three of the children, Paula, six, Diana, nine, and Christopher, five.

Released after treatment were the father and two children, Phillip, four, and Timothy, one. The family had recently moved into the house.

"A Good Feeling"
Capt. Walker commented, "It is a great feeling to pick up someone and know you've made a successful rescue."

Though he had been involved in a number of rescues, it was his second save while under way. (Continued on page 23, col. 7)

23 Hurt in 31 Accidents; Two Hit by Cars

Twenty-three persons were hurt in 31 traffic accidents occurring in and near the Quad-Cities this weekend. Included were a boy, 6, and a man, 52, who were hit by cars in separate mishaps.

A six-year-old boy, David Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor, 2527 Sheridan avenue, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital after being struck by an auto in the downtown district at 8:30 p.m. Friday.

He ran out of a door of the City Temple, 1917 State street, and was crossing the street when he was knocked about ten feet by the southbound auto of Donald H. Kalmeyer, 26, of 1607 Garfield avenue.

He was treated for a new injury of the left leg and for knee lacerations suffered two days earlier at school. He then was admitted to the hospital for observation.

Sam Barzoff, 82, of 1300 Iowa street, Madison, suffered a lacerated finger at 6:35 p.m. Friday when he was bumped by a car and knocked to the pavement at 13th street and Madison avenue, Madison.

Police reported Barzoff was struck as he stepped off the median strip in Madison avenue into the path of a car driven by Susan D. Wardlow, Rural Route Two.

She told police she applied her brakes and the car bumped Barzoff hard enough to knock him down. Several bottles he was carrying broke as he fell, causing the cut.

Passengers Injured
Two passengers who had entered a taxicab driven by Oscar Meier, 2109 Glen street, were injured when an auto driven by William J. Coons, 2007 Illinois street, struck the left side of another driven by Harriet Jones, 2001 Illinois avenue, shoving it into the parked cab at 2:25 p.m. Saturday at West street and Dewey avenue.

6781 Used Rink
The heavy weekend crowd brought to 6781 the total number of skaters to use the rink since it opened Friday, Oct. 27, a ten-day period.

Brown said issuance of identification cards to skaters living within the boundaries of Granite City will continue this afternoon from 4 to 7 p.m., and during the same hours on Tuesday if the present supply of color film holds out. Film for taking photographs attached to the ID cards has been ordered but had not been delivered this morning, Brown said.

Housewives' skating classes will start Wednesday morning with free instruction scheduled between 9 and 11 a.m. The classes will be held on Wednesdays and Fridays. Instructions in hockey skills will start Saturday from 8 to 9 a.m. and free skating instructions for school children from the first grade through high school will start Sunday, 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Brown said the youngsters will be put in regular admission to grades. Only regular admission will be charged for the skating classes.

10 DAYS WITHOUT A QUAD-CITY TRAFFIC FATALITY

The highest monthly income on record for collections from parking meter fines and fees—a total of $3247—was received during the month of October, according to the city comptroller today by the city comptroller's office.

Fee collections for the month were about average at $450, but an all-time high collection of fines totaling $1797 boosted the overall October meter revenue to the $3247 figure.

This was an average income of $223 per day for the 26 days of the month, when parking meters were in operation during October—also a record for any single month of meter operation since parking meters were installed in Granite City early in 1950.

Combined fine and fee revenue from parking meters has exceeded the $5000 mark in only two other months in the 17 years meters have been in use. Those were for August 1961, when fine and fee collections totaled $3189, and for April 1966 when total collections were $5047.

The substantial increase in fine collections during October grew out of police action to enforce fine payments on old tickets to which many motorists never had responded with payment of the customary $1 fine. In many instances police were forced to send out two sets of notices. First notices ordered delinquent motorists to report and pay a $2 fine. The second collection, if necessary, took the motorist into magistrate's court resulting in fines of $5 plus $5 court costs.

The heavier fines were partially responsible for the increase in fine collections which went into the city's parking meter fund along with fee collections from parking meters. The police department's parking meter fund continuing program and still is under way.

The fee revenue of $2450 was $500 greater than the September revenue of $2050, while the $1797 fine collection was $1618 greater than the $779 fine collection for the previous month of September.

Last month's fee revenue, however, was $450 less than that for last June which amounted to $2900 and represented the highest monthly fee revenue since November 1966, when it totaled $4933. Fine collections in June totaled only $1741, however, to make the total monthly income $4641.

Of the $41,034 collected so far in the fiscal year to date, $14,034 the total city income from parking meters for the ten months of this year. This is about $38,945 income of the same period last year, and $9010 greater than the $31,124 for the ten months of 1965 through October.

Parking meter records show that $41,034 collected so far this year brings to $770,634 the total income from parking meters since they were installed in 1950 and in operation in January 1950. During the first ten years, fine and fee revenue amounted to $447,778. Since 1960, meter income has totaled $327,855.

Construction of an additional one-million-gallon storage tank will be started immediately at the Tri-City Regional Port, it was announced today. It will be used for liquid fertilizer.

Carl A. Ranft, general manager of the port district, said it is hoped the tank will be completed and ready for use by early spring. Construction cost is estimated at $100,000.

The tank, to be built at the district's liquid terminal facility, will be operated along with other liquid storage facilities at Tri-City Port by National Marine Service, largest handlers of liquid products by barge on the rivers today.

Ranft pointed out that construction of the new tank will result to three million gallons the total storage capacity for liquid fertilizer which, he noted, is increasing in use at a rapid pace.

Shipped by Barge
Most liquid fertilizer is shipped into the Tri-City Port from New Orleans by barge and stored in the tank facilities for shipment to parts of the country. The barge pump on the riverfront handles approximately 50,000 gallons per hour.

Ranft noted that storage capacity of three million gallons is equivalent to 420 railroad tank cars.

Many liquid products are handled through the port here, such as caustic soda, fertilizer, liquid chemicals and soy bean oil, much of which is for export. Ranft said, adding that National Marine Service is hopeful of continuing to expand the liquid terminal facility at the port.

Built with Bond Funds
The new tank will be in addition to two others now operated by National Marine Service. One of the main riverfront levee adjacent to the Port/docking facilities. Present facilities include a 300,000-gallon tank and a 300,000-gallon tank. While these are operated by National Marine Service, they are situated at the Port of Granite City, and Allied Chemical Co. for shipment of liquid products through Port district facilities.

Both of the present tanks were built with part of a $720,000 bond issue sold by the port in late 1964. The bond funds also were used to construct rail facilities, truck loading facilities, rail sidings, pumping and heating equipment and dock structures. Rail operations at the Port are operated by the Illinois and St. Louis Railroad under lease agreements.

Two-Year Contract
Illinois Power Co. and Local 1306 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers today jointly announced they have reached tentative agreement on a new two-year contract effective Nov. 1. The agreement is subject to ratification by the union membership of about 700 persons.

Venice to Seek Realignment of Underpass Cost

A petition requesting the Illinois Commerce Commission to reapportion the cost of building the proposed Broadway underpass will be filed by the city of Venice because of the long delay in beginning work on the structure, it was decided by the Venice city council Friday night.

Decision to initiate the action was reached by the council after Mayor John E. Lee announced the city has revised upward its estimates of additional construction cost to the city resulting from almost two years' delay in getting the project under way.

Under an original ICC order providing for construction of the underpass, the structure was to have been completed by Oct. 30 this year.

The council's action authorized City Attorney Harry E. Hartman to file the petition for reapportionment of cost as a supplemental motion to an earlier petition asking for an order on an Illinois State Highway Division request for an extension of time to build the underpass.

The highway division has petitioned the ICC to fix a new deadline date of May 1, 1970, for completion of the job—two and a half years from now.

City Not Responsible
Mayor Lee pointed out that the city of Venice has no responsibility for delay in completion of the underpass project by the ICC's original deadline of Oct. 30, 1966.

The city therefore should not be required to assume a substantial increase in cost due to rising labor and material costs, he said, while the railroads retain an ICC limit on the amount of money they are to put into the underpass job.

Edward Juneau, city of Venice consulting engineer, from the city's Morgan & Schwaab, told the aldermen that on the basis of statistics compiled by Engineers News Review, a national publication in the engineering field, it is estimated that construction costs are increasing at a rate of 4.5% per year.

A month ago, Venice city officials estimated that the city's share of the cost of building the Broadway underpass had risen about $60,000, bringing the total present cost share to about $480,000. Under the original ICC order issued in late 1964, the Venice share of cost was $245,000.

County Clean Air Control Debated

GC Hearing Attracts 55; Decision Due by County Board Nov. 22

County control of air pollution was debated for 2½ hours Thursday night at the local Y.M.C.A., as 55 persons attended a public hearing called by the county board of supervisors' special committee. A decision is expected at the Nov. 22 meeting of the board at Edwardsville.

The committee, headed by Supervisor William Straube of Edwardsville, heard testimony from about 12 persons at the hearing here. The third and final public hearing is to be held at 7:30 p.m. today in the courthouse at Edwardsville.

First to be heard here was Theodore Macios, member of Board of Supervisors' Special Committee. He presented a prepared statement by Henry Blenick, chairman of the city and county of Madison County, for an effective air pollution control program.

Others included Mrs. Terry Francis, chairman of the Citizens' Committee for Clean Air; Edwin Reiske, president of the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council; John Blinn, a member of the Trades Council; Richard Allen, city attorney; George Becker of the United Steelworkers; and Sixth Ward Alderman Richard Fry, who urged a strong civil law.

Support for state-control standards was expressed by Howard Kaseberg, president of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce and a local area farmer; William F. Hoelscher, general manager of the Tri-Cities, and two Granite City aldermen, Walter Noon of the Fifth Ward and Ford Johnson of the Eighth Ward.

The hearing was to debate the clean air law prepared by the state which is based on the interstate study recommendations for controls and another presented by the county board by Granite City Assistant Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer that sets forth the state standards supported by area manufacturers.

Air-Conditioning Part Of Low Police Car Bid

Venice police cars may have air-conditioning, after all, if a computation of specifications is in line with car models offered in the lowest of four bids on two new police cars received by the Venice city council Friday night.

Air-conditioning frequently has been mentioned, but has never become a reality because of the added cost as an optional item. On Friday night, however, the preferred models on which the lowest bid was received have a 1-r conditioning as standard equipment.

The low bid was made Brewer Motor Co. on two heavy-duty Ambassador autos with 280-horsepower V-8 motors, at a net cost of $2016 to include the cost of transferring special police equipment to the new cars. The net cost figure is based on trade-in of the two police cars now in use.

The other three bids, all of which quoted additional costs for equipment transfers included B. E. Hohl Co., net cost of $2295 on two new Ford Mustangs Chevrolet Co., $3520 net cost on two new Chevrolets; and Farrington Motors, $3780 net cost on two new Dodges.

The bids were referred to the city council police committee and vice chief John Esington for comparison and a check of specifications. Mayor John E. Lee asked that a recommendation for purchase be made at the next council meeting Nov. 17.

Parents to Visit Schools, Confer on Pupils' Progress

Johnny will never finish school, if today's educators have any say about it. He'll be going to school the rest of his life.

Not long ago, the prevailing practice was to force-feed eight to 12 years of basic work into Johnny's throat. At that point he either went out to work or to college. The school door shut behind him.

Educators today are not only keeping those doors open, but encouraging Johnny to continue his learning until the day he dies.

"Lifetime learning" is the phrase most educators use and is one of the seven major endeavors being emphasized this week during American Education Week.

During the next two weeks, schools in the Quad-City area are encouraging parents to attend special programs, have informal conferences with teachers and become acquainted with the facilities offered by local school systems.

Owen Humphrey, curriculum coordinator for the Granite City school district, points out that today's educators are more interested in why and how Johnny learns as well as what he learns.

Each Child Unique

They want to discover and bring out the unique qualities in every individual child—stress his importance and significance to society and himself. They want to encourage his desire to ask questions, probe old and new ideas, and realize that life will continue to teach him long after graduation from school.

The theme of this year's American Education Week is "How Good Are Your Schools?"

More than 32 million parents are expected to see how today's schools shape the character of youth, provide learning opportunities for all, meet the challenge of change, provide quality education, develop vocational competence and enrich human life.

"Week" Originated in 1921

Sponsored annually by the National Education Association, American Legion, National Congress of Parents and Teachers and the U. S. Office of Education, the week-long observance was started in 1921.

The annual program resulted from the discoveries of draft boards during world war I that 25% of the young men called up for military service were illiterate and about 25% were physically unfit.

These conditions led members of the American Commission of the newly-formed American Legion to consult as early as 1917 with officers of the National Education Association and officials of the U. S. Office of Education about launching an educational campaign to correct the deficiencies.

Educators are doing their best to bring quality education to each child, Humphrey commented. "It is now more imperative than ever before that parents actively participate in efforts to create the best educated and most productive generation the nation has ever known, he added.

Local educators urge that all parents take advantage of this year's Education Week events by visiting their child's school.

The following schedules show dates, times and activities arranged at area schools.

Venice Adopts New Code of Updated Laws

A revised city code in which all Venice ordinances have been updated was approved by the Venice city council Friday night, climaxing two years of work by City Attorney Harry E. Hartman.

Revision of the ordinances to delete obsolete "horse and buggy" laws and to modernize licensing, sanitation and other regulations was started in 1963 by Hartman. Most of them were placed on first reading by the city council during the last six months as they were completed.

The new code includes a section covering operation of the fire department and placing control of the department under the city council. The ordinance was the subject of protests by members of the Venice volunteer fire department two weeks ago.

Formerly Elected Chief

The ordinance provides for appointment of the chief of the department and his two assistants by the mayor, subject to confirmation of the council. In the past, the chief was elected by the fire department, subject to confirmation by the mayor and council, and the chief appointed his assistants.

Additional regulations approved in Friday night's meeting included one making it a misdemeanor to abandon a refrigerator of one and a half cubic foot or more capacity with attached door and latch.

The ordinance is designed to give police authority to control such practices as a hazard to children. The city law conforms with state regulations on the same subject.

Another regulation adopted Friday night is an addition to the nuisances law which prohibits abandonment of automobiles. It provides that no junked, wrecked, or damaged auto or other vehicle can be abandoned in any location for more than 10 days, unless in a garage or enclosed building at a place of business.

The law also provides that no vehicle may be left on city streets for more than three days, and gives police authority to tow in and impound such vehicles.

Additions to Be Made
Several minor additions and revisions remain to be made, and the city laws then will be prepared in book form for city officials.

The city council commended the police department for its Halloween night patrol activities that kept incidents of damage and vandalism to a minimum.

Police Chief John Essington reported that 12 men were on duty, one on foot patrol, and that two personal cars were used by officers to supplement the regular squad cars.

Chief Essington said only eight calls attributed to Halloween pranks were received throughout the night and only two incidents of minor damage.

Bartylak Appears in Court, Then Released

Former Madison county State's Attorney Joseph R. Bartylak appeared in court Friday morning in Edwardsville as ordered for a hearing on pre-trial motions stemming from a criminal indictment for official misconduct and theft.

Bartylak, who has been a long-term patient in the Malcolm Bliss mental hospital in St. Louis, was released by Associate Circuit Judge I. H. on his recognizance pending future appearance. Judge Streper previously had cited Bartylak for contempt of court for not following orders to appear in court while he was hospitalized.

Associate Circuit Judge Austin Lewis, assigned to Bartylak's case, had ordered his appearance Friday a week previously. Trial on charges of official misconduct in office and 16 counts of theft of public and client funds is scheduled for Nov. 27.

Bartylak resigned his position effective last Jan. 1, listing illness as the reason. He was under fire at the time for having failed to submit required financial reports to the court. He was indicted in March.

Lewis was one of the state's attorneys, along with C. W. Burton, Associate Circuit Judge Fred P. Schuman, Dick Mudge Jr. and Bartylak.

The development led to the possibility of a further indefinite delay in the trial. Chief Circuit Judge James O. Mon-

Life Insurance is mostly LOVE

Sure, there are things like dividends, annuities, guaranteed pensions... but after all, life insurance is mostly love. It's a way of saying, "I care." Life insurance is a bright, confident face that looks to the future without questioning if college doors will open. Life insurance is the serenity that comes with the knowledge that a "foreclosed" sign will not be decorating the front door. Life insurance is the comfortable companion of the graceful years. For families who are richer because they care, life insurance is a lot of things. But mostly love.

Overseas Surface Mail Deadline is Saturday

Christmas packages weighing more than five pounds—sent by surface postage rates to servicemen or civilians overseas—must be mailed prior to Saturday to ensure delivery before the holidays, Granite City Postmaster Theodore Overbeck reminded Quad-Cityans today.

Postmaster Overbeck noted that special attention will again be placed on the delivery of mail to servicemen in Vietnam and the surrounding area.

For the third year, gift packages weighing not more than five pounds and measuring not more than 60 inches in length and girth combined, addressed

Miss Jordan, Philip Smith Are Wed in Collinsville

An out-of-town wedding of interest locally was that Saturday morning at St. Peter & Paul Catholic Church, Collinsville, of Miss Janet Ann Jordan, a teacher in the Granite City school system, and Philip L. Smith, a son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Smith, 743 Broadway, Venice.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Jordan, 208 Belmont road, Collinsville.

The ceremony took place at 11 o'clock with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Robert Eager officiating in a setting of white and pink flowers and greenery. The double-ring service was used.

Mr. Jordan gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a floor-length A-line dress of white pearl de sole fashioned with a scoop neckline and lace insertions on the bell sleeves, the bodice and the bottom of the skirt. Attached at the back of the gown was a chapel train which descended from a large pearl de sole bow accented with lace appliques.

The three-tiered veil of illusion trimmed with pearls was held in place with a small headpiece which also secured a full length veil of tulle.

The bride carried a cascade of white Tiara roses and natural foliage.

The gowns of the attendants were identical. Floor-length, they were of beauty-red silk and worsted. Sleeveless they were styled with small jeweled corset necklines. Headpieces consisted of four floor-length panels of tulle in shades of pink and beauty descending from tulle covered crowns jeweled to match the necklines of the gowns.

Their flowers were crescent arrangements of pink Sensation roses and lemon leaves. Miss Phyllis Smith, the bridegroom's sister, was maid of honor and Mrs. Jerome Kurz, Mrs. Donald Hodges and Miss Janet Kropp served as bridesmaids.

Pinpoint Passing Pins 38-6 Loss on Trojans at Roxana Gridiron

The Madison high school football Trojans lost all chances for first place in the Midwest Conference this season as they were defeated by the Shells 38-6 Friday night at the Roxana field while Cahokia wrapped up at least a tie for the championship by defeating Bethalto 33-6 at the Comanches' field.

"The pinpoint passes from Dave Reynolds to Scott Davis were too much for our boys to handle. Davis is a fine runner and one of the best ends I've seen so far this season," Madison Coach Harland Schiebel reported.

The Reynolds-to-Davis combination was good for three of the Shells' touchdowns, the first coming in the opening quarter, with only two minutes elapsed. The 47-yard pass play was followed by Reynolds' extra point kick for a 7-0 lead.

Scott Brothers Cited Roxana was held for the remainder of the quarter by the alert tackling of Jim and Bob Scott, brothers, who were named as "players of the week" by the Madison skipper.

The Shells bombed the Trojans with passes in the second quarter, continuing to make good use of Davis' maneuvering ability in getting clean for passes.

Roxana moved the ball from its own 25 to the Trojan 22, where Reynolds faked a pass and handed off to Randy Stormer. Stormer sprinted for the remaining distance for the Shells' second TD. A kick by Steve Kinser was wide of the goalposts, leaving the score 13-0.

With only a minute left to play in the first half, the Shells struck again. Reynolds passed to Davis for 10 yards. The extra point kick again was wide.

The second half opened with the Shells kicking deep to the Trojans, whose runback reached the Roxana 40-yard-line.

Suspensions Cut Size of Football Squad in Half

Seventeen Negro members of the Madison high school football team declined to play in Friday night's MHS game at Roxana and will not be permitted to participate in the Trojans' final game here this Friday against Bethalto.

A squad of 16 made the trip to the contest, which Roxana won 38-6. The suspended players missed practices Monday and Tuesday and were given the choice of reporting for practices Wednesday and missing, only the Roxana game or of remaining off for the rest of the season. They failed to report. Included were five starters on offense and eight members of the starting defensive squad.

Hunt This Fall--But Hunt Safely

As the vanguard of the millions of U. S. nimrod took to the hunting fields with rifles and shotguns, the Red Cross today urged them to come home to safety rules, and listed basic rules for safe handling of firearms.

"More than 20 million Americans participate in hunting—a pleasant and healthful sport when it is pursued safely," according to Mrs. Maxine Dunphy, first aid chairman of the Tri-City Red Cross chapter and herself a hunter. "But tragically, last year 2900 people in the United States were killed by guns—several hundred of them in hunting accidents."

"This number was an increase of 256 over accidental deaths from firearms in 1965. Every hunter, and in fact, everyone who owns a gun, should know and abide by these safety rules," she said, listing them as follows:

At all times—treat every gun as if it were loaded. Don't indulge in horseplay with guns. Don't point one at anything you don't intend to shoot.

At home—keep guns unloaded. After making certain they are unloaded, store them in a locked case or cabinet, out of the reach of children. Store ammunition in a separate, locked place.

Teach your children the principles of firearms safety.

Before a hunting trip — be sure you are in good health. Dress appropriately for the terrain you are going to hunt over. Wear something of distinctive coloring so other hunters will see you.

Know the area in which you are going to hunt. Consult topographical maps showing details of ridges, valleys, trails and streams.

Take along a small first-aid kit, a compass, knife or hatchet, and matches.

Practice your marksmanship to be reasonably certain you can hit what you aim at.

Choose your hunting companions wisely; avoid those who are overzealous, careless or excitable.

Take along some extra-high-energy food, like a few chocolate bars.

Entrust to the hunting field—in cars, boats or planes, make sure your guns are unloaded. Keep them cased, wrapped or dismantled.

In the field—treat every gun as if it were loaded. Never take anyone else's word that a gun is "empty."

Always point the gun muzzle in a safe direction. Never aim at anything you don't plan to shoot.

Be sure of your target. Never shoot at unidentified noises—wait until the whole animal or bird is visible.

Know the correct way to carry your gun—under arm, shouldered, cradled or with both hands. Make sure the safety is on, your finger is outside the trigger guard and the muzzle is in a safe direction and is under control.

Keep the safety on or the chamber unloaded until ready to fire; and keep your finger out of the trigger guard.

Check the bore frequently through the breach and before loading to be sure it is clear of foreign objects—and frequently also while hunting.

Agree beforehand on the area each hunter will cover.

Be sure the action is open when handling the gun to another person, or when stopping to eat, chat or rest.

Transport unloaded guns in cases for their protection.

When duck hunting from a boat, two hunters should sit back to back. Never lay a loaded gun on bottom of boat.

When hunting in a group, no hunter should carry a gun so that it ever points at another person.

Unload a gun before crossing a fence and pass the gun under first.

If, despite all precautions, someone is wounded, these are first-aid measures to follow:

Control bleeding, protect the wound from contamination and give the victim care against shock. Even if the surface wound is small, there still may be extensive internal injuries.

Get the victim to a physician as soon as possible, and do so with as little movement of the victim as possible.

"All hunters should know first-aid," Mrs. Dunphy stressed. "The Tri City Red Cross chapter offers courses in it regularly."

Press-Record's 'Yule Mail Call' List Still Growing

The first eight names on today's "Yule Mail Call" list were submitted by Mrs. Mary Whittle, secretary of St. Peter United Church of Christ, and include the current addresses of local servicemen who attended St. Peter's Church prior to joining the Armed Forces.

Also appearing in the latest segment of the Press-Record's pre-Christmas service project are a Madison sailor whose name and address was published in last year's "Yule Mail Call" while on duty with the Marines in Vietnam, and another Madison youth, an Army veteran of 23 months, who will celebrate his 19th birthday next week at Bien Hoa, near Saigon.

Private First Class Danny Austin Lewis, son of Mrs. Kathleen A. Lewis, 1670 Fifth street, Madison, volunteered for 12 months duty in Viet Nam while serving with the Army in Germany. He had spent eight-and-a-half months in the European theatre when he requested a transfer to the combat area.

Pfc Lewis will observe his 19th birthday on Saturday, Nov. 18, at Bien Hoa Air Base, near Saigon, from where he flies combat missions as door gunner on a Huey helicopter. He is a member of the 118th Assault Helicopter Co.

The Madison youth enlisted in the Army on Dec. 1, 1965, shortly after his 17th birthday. He attended Madison senior high school and has been stationed in Vietnam for the past seven months.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Chamberlain of 401 McCormick avenue, Madison, submitted the names of their two sons to this year's "Yule Mail Call" list.

In a letter to the Press-Record, Mrs. Chamberlain wrote, "Our son Charles was in Vietnam serving with the Marines at Christmas last year, the first one he had spent away from home. He enjoyed serving, all the cards and letters so much."

The mother was referring to Charles R. Chamberlain, now stationed at the Naval Weapons Station at Yorktown, Va. A second son, Specialist Fourth Class Thomas M. Chamberlain is serving with the 226th Light Equipment Maintenance Co., at Fort Bragg, N.C.

Parents, relatives, friends, church and service groups, or other individuals are invited to submit the names and addresses of servicemen or women to the Press-Record, 1815 Delmar avenue. The information may be written and mailed on a post card or letter or brought into the newspaper office.

Those wishing to include a serviceman's name, should provide his rank, serial number and correct address, including APO or FPO when applicable. The area of overseas service will appear in parenthesis following the address when this information is available.

It is hoped the pre-Yuletide service will encourage Quad-Cityans to add the military personnel to their Christmas mailing lists. More than 35 names and addresses were published in the 1966 lists which appeared in 13 issues.

Firm Honors Mclvoy As 20-Year Veteran

Wayne "Squires" Mclvoy, 2422 Benton street, has observed his twentieth anniversary as an active member of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's field force.

Mclvoy was inducted into the company's Veterans Association Field Group St. Louis region chapter this fall and officially into the local group Saturday at the Round Table in Collinsville in the presence of friends and employees of the Granite City office.

Mrs. Verla Kretz, president of the St. Louis chapter, performed the induction ceremony locally. This district has 14 veteran members.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of silk organza with a long detachable train. A flat bow secured her silk illusion veil, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley combined with greenery and white streamers.

Her sister, Miss Mary Moser, as maid of honor, and Mrs. Linda Coppedge, bridesmaid, were dressed in long red velvet gowns with elbow sleeves and velvet bow headpieces holding in place circular nose veils.

They carried red and white carnation nosegays.

Ledina Warden and Kenneth Warden, cousins of the bride, served as flower girl and ring bearer. The former was dressed in white with a basket of rose petals.

Ronald Nunery was his brother's best man, and Jarin Giles, a cousin, Ronald Ashby and Dennis Crabtree served as groomsmen and ushers.

Terri Frith, Ray Holt Exchange Wedding Vows

Miss Terri Ann Frith, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Frith, 2239 Missouri avenue, and Ray William Holt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Holt, 1900 Bloom avenue, Paducah, Ky., were united in marriage Saturday evening at Second Baptist Church, 2100 Illinois avenue.

Rev. Eugene Dutton performed the double-ring ceremony at 7:30 before an altar banked with white gladioli, white pom poms, ferns and lighted candles.

A reception was held afterward in the church Fellowship Hall. Miss Leetta Marrison was in charge of the guest book.

Mrs. Norman Grote presided at the organ and accompanied the soloist, Robert Boger of Ballwin, Mo., who sang, "Always," "With This Ring," and the Lord's Prayer. Candelighters were Gary Gene LeMaster and Tina Marie LeMaster, cousins of the bride.

The bride, escorted down the white-carpeted aisle by her father, chose a pure white peau de soie gown fashioned with a high rounded neckline and long tapered sleeves. Chantilly lace motifs were placed on the Empire bodice and extended into the long A-line skirt. A Watteau paneled back with small covered buttons fell into a full sweeping train with repeated motifs.

A forward headpiece of petals held a tiered veil of bridal illusion and the bride carried an offside cascade bouquet of gardenias, stephanotis and variegated ivy.

The maid of honor, Miss Brenda Holt of Paducah, a sister of the groom, and bridesmaids, Miss Becky Frith, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Clyde Seegars, were dressed in identical floor-length gowns of gold silk cloth, with short puffed sleeves and short sleeves. Colored floral motifs with olive green velvet bows and streamers accented the front of the long skirts.

Matching veils attached to pearl combs were worn as headpieces and they carried nosegays of yellow and bronze pom poms.

Marsha Curtis, a cousin of the bride, as flower girl, wore a full-length dress of white lace over tulle with a square neckline, short puffed sleeves and a full bouffant skirt. She carried a white basket of white pom poms and rose petals.

Jay LeMaster, a cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

Edward Holt of Paducah, brother of the groom, served as best man. The groomsmen were Donald Holt of Paducah, another brother, and Ricky Frith, brother of the bride.

Ushers included Gene LeMaster and Harold LeMaster, both uncles of the bride, Alan LeMaster, a cousin of the bride, and Clyde Seegars.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Frith wore a one-piece pink dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations tipped in pink. Mrs. Holt, the groom's mother, wore a two-piece dress of blue and matching accessories, and her corsage was white carnations tipped in blue.

A rehearsal dinner was given at the home of the bride Friday evening, with Mrs. Charles Buente, an aunt of the bride, assisting.

The former Miss Frith is a 1965 graduate of Granite City high school and is employed by the Burlington truck lines in St. Louis.

Mr. Holt was graduated in 1963 from Tilden high school, Paducah, and is presently employed at General Steel Industries.

Following a wedding trip to the Ozarks, the newlyweds will reside locally.

Miss Sue Tapp, vocalist, sang "Ave Maria," "Mother Beloved" and "Panie Angielu," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Margaret Crawshaw.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of gardenia peau de soie trimmed with an overlay of peau d'ange lace scalloped along the line. The Empire bodice featured an oval neckline and elbow sleeves of scalloped lace. Lace also accented the long train which was topped with a fabric bow.

A fabric rose and petal headpiece with seed pearls was worn forward attached to a tiered veil of silk illusion. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white pom poms and variegated ivy centered with a corsage of cocktail orchids.

Miss Rose Marie Frizzell, maid of honor, and Miss Denise Kirksey, the bride's sister, and Miss Donna Bruder, bridesmaid, were dressed alike in matching floor-length gowns of rose chiffon over crepe. The necklines had rolled collars with small bows at the backs and streamers to the hems.

They wore matching headpieces and carried cascade bouquets of light pink pom poms with Happiness ribbon.

Theresa Temple, the bridegroom's cousin, and Jeffrey Ketner, a brother, served as flower girl and ring bearer. The flower girl was in a pink crepe dress and a matching headpiece. She carried a miniature bouquet of the same flowers as the bride.

the Iranian girl, Kay, 15 years old; Robert Serini, 1927 Third street, East Madison; his wife, Marlene; and their daughters, Sandra 12, and Sharon 10.

Girl From Iran Foster Daughter of East Madison Family

When the Robert Serini family, 1927 Third street, East Madison, gets into its antique car these days, there is a new passenger—a 15-year-old foster daughter who was originally from Iran.

Although Kay has only been in this country for a year and a half, she speaks English well enough to express her enthusiasm for her foster parents and their car.

Kay gets a lot of tutoring in English from Sandra Serini, 12, and Sharon Serini, 10. Recently she got a "100" grade in spelling and the whole family beamed along with her because all help her drill.

"Sometimes we have to ask her to repeat a phrase, but she is doing very well," says Mrs. Serini proudly.

Mr. and Mrs. Serini believe it is just as vital that their new daughter become acquainted with American customs as with the language.

Costumed Ride at Auto Show

Actually, she will be familiar with the recent past as well as the present scene, since the foster family's hobby is attending antique car shows. Recently, all four females dressed up in "old time" costumes to ride in their 1931 Model A for a special show.

Through such outings, Kay has had the opportunity for many new experiences—everything from casual picnics to fancy restaurant dinners.

She was placed with the family by the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services.

The department has hundreds of foster homes throughout the state but there are several unusual aspects to this particular arrangement. Ordinarily, the children with whom the agency has contact are from the immediate vicinity; it is rare in the Illinois Metropolitan Area for the department to work with a child from another country, although it might be less uncommon in the Chicago area.

Also, the Serinis are young to be foster parents for a teenager. Robert Serini is 34 and his wife, Marlene, is 28 years old.

Homes Sought for Teenagers

Teenagers are the age group for which the department is actively recruiting homes.

The agency has a need for homes for children of all ages; but fewer couples will accept a teenager of either sex. The Serinis are happy that they were more courageous than most, as Kay has caused no problems and is a "joy to be around."

The couple laughs and says that parents with teenagers of their own will find it hard to believe, but "Kay's so proud of her room that she cleans it constantly. We have to ask her to stop."

She will take time out for homework, practicing the piano, and writing her pen pal in Indiana. The family believes the latter is an incentive to Kay to improve both her comprehension and written expression of the English language. It was Kay's idea to have a pen pal.

All members of the family keep busy. Mrs. Serini baked seven apple pies one day last summer and, as a former beautician, her services are in demand by her three girls. Serini has worked for Granite City Steel Co. for 13 years.

But they apparently do not think they have enough to do; they are interested in getting another foster child, make a boy this time.

Share Activities, Fun

The couple became interested in foster care because Mrs. Serini's mother once kept a child from a Baptist Children's Home.

They felt it was not as important what a family can give a child materially as what they can share with a child in terms of their love, their activities and their fun.

They know their activities were child oriented. "If kids can't do something it's not worth doing" is their philosophy.

Mr. and Mrs. Serini applied to the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services in East St. Louis. They asked for a long-term placement so that the child could "fully share in our family life."

Three Types of Placements

Other couples can choose short-term care, which means the child may stay a few weeks or months until he can return home or be placed for adoption.

Participation in "emergency care" requires that the foster parents be willing to accept a child any day or night.

The department reimburses foster parents for board, provides clothing and medical care, and gives allowances to older children. Social workers visit with the children to help them adjust in their new homes, and the foster parents attend group meetings to discuss their common concerns.

The agency and the foster family work as a team to insure the child's physical, social, emotional and intellectual development.

Prerequisite—Love Children

Mr. and Mrs. Serini describe themselves as people who "love kids."

Others with similar sentiments will be considered by the agency if they wish to apply. Interested persons may call Mrs. Coggins or Mrs. Taylor at 875-2400 or may write the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services, 435 Missouri avenue, East St. Louis.

MORE ABOUT County Clean

law, prepared by Scroggins, he added, "has the necessary flexibility to create an effective air pollution program designed to specifically meet the needs of both the residents and industry of Madison county."

Possible Higher Taxes

Kaseberg emphasized the importance of industry to the county and the need to encourage more industry to locate here. "We need to keep taxes from going higher and higher, and if there is a county law, there will be higher taxes."

He pointed out that while there is a need to strive for clean air, there could be problems with a more stringent county law, resulting in industry leaving away from locating in Madison county.

Kaseberg added that by conforming with state standards, the legislature could be prevailed upon to upgrade standards when necessary. "What we need is a strongly worded, rigidly enforced and uniform law, not the overlapping of controls on local, county, state and federal levels."

Hard Allen, who said that he was city attorney for Granite City, he was speaking as a citizen, noted the state standards granted numerous exemptions to industries.

Certain exemptions, he added, that the big question before the county board will be whether to adopt the Scroggins clean air law or the one based on state standards and prepared by Hoelscher of the manufacturers. "With the exemptions for certain industries, you've still got problems. The state board is sincere in granting exemptions, but you must remember that Scroggins has no other interest than to prepare an ordinance that is for the best interest of the people."

He further said, "Industry would lead you to believe that all would be hunky dory if we follow the state law . . . but there are differences between the two ordinances—one that would not place a financial burden on industry and the Scroggins' law that stresses controls for the best health of the people."

Allen noted that the state said a Granite City problem of paint discoloration could not be solved, but that the city went ahead and spent $10,000 with a testing laboratory and got the job done.

Challenges Validity
In a prepared statement which he read at the hearing, Hoelscher stated that the clean air law prepared by Scroggins would be invalid and unenforceable. He added:

"In my opinion control of air pollution in the state has come a long way in the last several years. The state has locally assigned a qualified staff, operating effectively to enforce a set of stringent but well-considered rules and regulations which control open burning, smoke, particulate matter and permits for new equipment and which should very shortly contain rules and regulations on the oxide of sulphur, as a report from the state's technical committee is expected on that subject within the next month or so.

"We believe it is in the interest of the citizens of Madison county to give the state a chance to prove that its program can, when fully enforced, solve the air pollution problems of our area. To do otherwise is to hazard overlapping multiple local programs which attempt to duplicate the state's effort at considerable expense to Madison county taxpayers without a just return in air pollution abatement."

Noting the wide variety of industries in this area, Hoelscher said that "since the early 1960s, the Manufacturers' Association has maintained an active air and water quality committee to solve problems in the area . . . and that the Manufacturers' Association supports the control of air pollution from all sources by all technological, feasible and economically reasonable means."

Steps Toward Abatement
He reviewed the progress to date, pointing to millions of dollars spent by Granite City Steel Co. here and Laclede Steel Co. in Alton to install special equipment to reduce air pollution. The cost was set at $4 to $4½ million.

"May we remind you," Hoelscher said, "that the industrial process are not the major source of air pollution in this country. Information from the U.S. Public Health Service shows that to the total air pollution problem, automobiles contribute 60%, power plants, 14%, space heating and incineration, 10%, and industry, only 16%."

He added that to create a county law in conflict with the state law would not only impede air pollution control in the county but likely result in long delay through court tests on inconsistent local regulations.

"It was for this reason that I suggested to Granite City Supervisor Nelson Hagner that the county board should at least be given the opportunity to view an ordinance prepared in a manner roughly identical to that adopted in the city of Granite City and in accordance with the state law," Hoelscher said.

"Visit Our Area"
Mrs. Francis urged the county board members living in rural areas to "visit the Quad-Cities area to get a first-hand view of air pollution."

She said the slim attendance at the hearing by women was because most of their husbands earned their livings at local industries and would not permit their wives to attend. There were four women in the audience. "Our hope," she said, is that the county ordinance gives

The state's attorney's office said that no charges would be filed against the assailant, who apparently acted in self defense and was nicked with a knife himself. County authorities were unable to determine the cause of the fight except that Blair had been "pestering" his assailant at intervals during the night.

us the clean air that was denied us by the city."

Prior to the hearing, a circular was distributed to homes in Granite City by an organization known as "SOS" (Stamp Out Smog), urging attendance at the meeting and support of the clean air control law proposed by Scroggins. The mimeographed circular bore the name of Alice McGee, chairman. No one at the hearing spoke for the organization.

Reiske told the committee that the 23,000-member Trades & Labor Council is supporting the law prepared by Scroggins. He added that the exemptions granted by the state were for industries, such as coke plants, "that are polluting the air."

Hoelscher called attention to action taken that day on the federal level, where legislation is nearing passage for development of regional air pollution control programs and compacts between states. The new federal law would give states or regions two years to develop programs.

"Local Responsibility"
Alderman Fry contended it is a local responsibility to control air pollution. "The people want the job done, and the state is too slow," he added.

Scroggins added that he would write the state air board's technical secretary, Clarence Klassen, to tonight's hearing at Edwardsville, but that it was unlikely Klassen, who is out of the country, would be present. The state's attorney indicated the state official probably will visit this area before the matter of air control is before the county board on Nov. 22.

Another speaker Thursday evening was Frank Partee of the National Center for Air Pollution Control, a division of the U.S. Public Health Service, who participated in the interstate study that included the Quad-Cities.

"I've probably been on more rooftops here than any of you," he commented. Partee outlined the methods for agencies to qualify for federal grants. He said that of $7,000,000 made available for the nation, Illinois was allocated $640,000 for the state board, Cook county and Chicago.

Alderman Johnson commented that even if the county raised $25,000 through taxation and obtained $75,000 from federal grant, it would be a slim amount to bring about any controls in an area as big as the county. He pointed out the city of Granite City alone has budgeted $25,000 for air pollution control.

10-Week European Journey By Val Geroff's

Ten weeks packed with sights, sounds, impressions and experiences were enjoyed by Dr. and Mrs. Val K. Geroff, 2946 State street, as they toured Europe and visited three areas behind the Iron Curtain in late August, September and October.

The kaleidoscope of activities began with a sightseeing tour of Southern Europe and the Riviera and continued in areas of Greece, where they visited the home of his parents and met cousins still residing there.

Next were visits to Bulgaria and Yugoslavia, a swing through Austria and Germany including a tour of East Berlin, and stays in Switzerland, France and England.

Planes, Boats, Auto

Most of the travel was by airplane, but they took a boat cruise to islands off the coast of Greece and also used an auto during a brief part of their travel.

The dentist and wife, Ruth, viewed the Berlin wall, met leaders of the Bulgarian Eastern Orthodox Church and had an opportunity to come to know many new friends in more than a dozen countries.

A description of their journey follows:

LISBON—Three days in Portugal included tours of palaces and castles. They witnessed Fado folk dancing.

See Former Steel Employee
MADRID—Five-day stay in Spain was highlighted by visits to Barcelona and Toledo, views of famous painting by Goya and Greco and a visit to Greco's home. In Madrid they met a Spanish family which had lived in St. Louis while the father worked at Granite City Steel Co. in 1899-01.

PALMA—The Geroffs spent three days on Mallorca, an island 100 miles off the eastern coast of Spain.

NICE—During a three-day French Riviera tour they met a St. Louis University Dental School graduate, an orthodontist, vacationing there with his family. They visited Monaco, miniature principality best known as the site of the Monte Carlo gambling center.

GRASSE—This small city in France is the location of a perfume factory.

Winners Venice Regatta
VENICE—They were fortunate to arrive in Italy's canal city simultaneously with the start of the annual regatta, in which gondoliers decorate themselves and their gondolas and compete in water races. Italian Navy vessels were anchored at Venice during the Geroffs' three-day stay, which included motorboat tours and a visit to a glass factory.

ROME—Five days were highlighted by tours of the Sistine Chapel, St. Peter's Church, the Colosseum, Catacombs and fountains.

Florence—Flood damage here repaired in this center of artistic treasures, which they visited for two days. Bullying were still visible inside some churches which have been returned to use.

Festivals, Food Dances

ATHENS—A three-week tour of Greece began in the capital, where they saw the American Embassy and the Acropolis, the location of ancient temples. Native foods, wine festivals and exhibitions of Greek dances were enjoyed.

DODECANESE ISLANDS—Located in the Aegean Sea and belonging to Greece, the islands were toured by boat.

THESSALONIC AND DENDROHORI—Once under Turkish rule, these cities of Greece are near the area where once lived Mrs. Helen Geroff of Granite City and her late husband, Christ Geroff. Their children are Dr. Val K. Geroff, Granite City dentist, Dr. Steve K. Geroff, Madison dentist, and Mrs. Dorothy Kalchoff of Granite City.

ISTANBUL—Stop in Turkey enabled them to visit the famous Blue Mosque.

Meet Bishop Partheny
SOFIA—Bulgarian tour included the Rila Monastery, noted for its Byzantine art-work, and a conversation with Bishop Partheny of their religious faith, the Bulgarian Eastern Orthodox Church, at the church headquarters in Sofia. He at one time was assigned to New York for 23 months, and also has been a visitor to the Quad-Cities.

BELGRADE—Brief stop in the Yugoslavian capital impressed them with the beauty of the city.

VIENNA—Three days in Austrian capital permitted a view of the Danube River and attendance at folk festivals.

BERLIN—Their three-day visit to West Berlin included

SUMMIT CONFERENCE atop Mount Pilatus in Switzerland. Dr. and Mrs. Geroff reached the top of this mountain in the Alps range after a 45-minute cable car ride. Other countries visited were Portugal, Spain, France, Italy, Greece, Turkey, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, Austria, Germany and England.

a stop at the Berlin wall and a tour of East Berlin, where they saw remnants of the devastation of world war II.

ZURICH—Switzerland, with its mountains and its cleanliness, afforded an enjoyable three days.

GENEVA—United Nations offices in the former League of Nations were visited.

PARIS—The French capital retained its charm. Recollections of their three days there include the Louvre museum, Eiffel Tower and the Cathedral of Notre Dame.

LONDON—The English capital marked the final point prior to their flight across the Atlantic Ocean. The trip gave them a view of the Polar ice cap.

The guarded barricade shown here included a barbed wire fence, two walls and steel obstructions—"a pitiful view." They saw a house through which 57 people escaped by tunnel—and memorials to the many killed while trying to reach freedom.

Leslie Ann Skelly gave the shower in the basement of the First Methodist Church.

The room was decorated in pink and blue and the gift table held a stark overlooking the numerous packages opened by the honoree.

Mines, Compresses Among the Possible Disposal Solutions

The "old world" may be ahead of the "new world" in coping with what is expected by many to be an ever-increasing problem—disposal of trash.

The Illinois Department of Public Health notes that many European cities are hauling their refuse in special trains to abandoned strip and shaft mines; in Germany, the same train hauling coal to a town takes trash back to the mines, thus reducing the cost.

Large firms have developed a press that compresses and bails waste material to the extent that blocks of it can be used in roadbeds and foundations of buildings.

With open air burning of trash banned in Illinois, and dumped rubbish required to be covered with earth daily, the state is preparing to take action against the 20 communities still not following accepted disposal procedures. State penalties—court injunctions and fines of up to $500 a day—were established by the 1967 legislature.

Based on an estimate that each person in Illinois accounts for four pounds of rubbish a day, the state as a whole will have to dispose of 7 300 000 tons during 1968.

Rising land values, the growing population, higher collection wages, diminishing reserves of unused land, and increases in the per capita rate of waste are cited as indicators that the overall problem will grow along with the mountainous landfills.

"As dotted as this state is with abandoned mines, it will be a long, long time before we want for a place to dump our garbage," Charles E. Clark, a sanitary engineer for the Public Health Department, comments.

"But it will cost money," he concedes. Already, the cost ranges from 25 cents to $1.25 in Illinois to dispose of each cubic yard of trash in an approved fashion.

'Children Theatre' Program Added to Winter Activities

Excellent response to the "Children's Theatre" program, conducted by the Granite City district adding a similar six-from 1 to 4 p.m.

The program officially got underway last week under the supervision of Alex Urban, a teacher at Signal Hill junior high school, Belleville, who directed the Granite City summer theatre project and similar programs in Belleville.

Special instruction will be given in make-up, stage scen-said. Voice projection and tech-

Clergy Asked to Back Anti-Poverty Program

An emergency meeting was held Thursday evening at the Neighborhood Service Center in Alton to urge members of the Madison county clergy to inform Congress that there is community support for anti-poverty legislation and to discuss possible courses of action.

As a result, members of various religious denominations in the county will be incorporating a prayer in their Sunday services that U. S. representatives support legislation to continue the anti-poverty program.

Another course of community action will involve correspondence from clergy and laymen to area congressmen.

Cong. Melvin Price is supporting the legislation, while Cong. George Shipley, although not entirely opposed, has reservations which have not enabled him to make a positive decision, it was noted.

"THIS IS HOW," says Chief Halftown to Tony Vitale, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Paul Vitale, 2113 Glen drive, during a clinic at Tri-Mor Bowl Saturday. He gave instruction to about 250 local youngsters there and to 1600 at four Quad-City schools.

Chief a Heap Good Bowler, Instructor

Indian Chief Traynor Ora Halftown's chief interest is bowling lanes. He "sells" the sport with a smile and words of advice to grade school children—the future generation of bowlers.

Halftown, a Seneca Indian from Philadelphia, was here Friday and Saturday as an ambassador of good will for the Brunswick firm. He was accompanied to the Maryville, St. Elizabeth, St. Mary's and McKinley schools by the manager of Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl, Joe Casumano, who said the chief spoke to a total of 1600 children at the schools and 250 at the bowling lanes.

The chief talked of Indian lore and emphasized Indian humor. "Indians do laugh," he said, "in spite of their image of stoicism. Indian jokes are clean jokes, and are fun."

The chief went on to tell jokingly of his favorite movie, "Custer," where the Indians win. He said bowling lanes are increasingly basing their appeal to youth and are stressing wholesome recreation.

He concluded, "Being young is the time to have fun. Pity is not to be backward, or you will miss a lot in life."

where from $500,000 to $520,000, rather than the $426,000 the department, $426,000 by the city of Venice and $180,000 by the three railroads that will cross over the top of the underpass structure. These are the New York Central, Gt. Mobile & Ohio and Norfolk & Western.

In today Mayor Lee noted, the original ICC order specified the amount to be paid by the state and the railroad. The city would be paid by the city of Venice.

Unless the order is changed, the mayor said, this could mean that the city of Venice would be responsible for all of the increased cost resulting from delay in construction—a delay that is no responsibility of the city.

Railroads Changed Plans
The delay developed primarily from the fact that the railroad announced early this year that they were changing track layouts for the underpass of the underpass, requiring a revision in the width of the underpass.

The state highway officials were required to wait for railroad plans before beginning detailed construction plans for the overpass. The delay in the state highway plans are not yet complete and considerable work remains to be done.

In the petition to be filed with the ICC, Hartman said, the city will ask the commerce department to bear "no determine responsibility for the delay and to readjust the cost." The city of Venice is setting aside its annual $100,000 income from operation of McKinley Bridge, has built up a fund totaling $207,882 to finance its share of the cost.

on his part that school officials will take every possible step to resolve issues. Primary objection touched off the school tension at the high school last week was a demand for more Negro children in the school.

Negro students protested that of the six cheerleaders elected by the school's Pep Club, only one was Negro, although a good part of the student body is made up of Negro pupils. Other issues included bus transportation from athletic games at night and a request for more Negro help in the kitchen at the school cafeteria.

Dragich denied that the removal of 17 Negro students from the roster of the school's football team prior to last Friday night's football game had any connection with the protest against the school's policy of removing from the team strictly because they failed to show up for football practice "and for no other reason."

"The fact that these boys were taken off the team is due entirely to their violation of the rules," Dragich said, adding that "the boys understood this themselves and did not object to the penalty of their removal."

Review is Granted In Food Stamp Case

James S. Jenkins, owner of Jenkins' Grocery at Venice has been permitted to continue as an authorized dealer in the Federal Food Stamp program pending outcome of a review of alleged program violations, the U.S. Department of Agriculture announced Friday.

The department earlier reported disqualification of the store from the program because time limit for a requested review had expired. Request for such a review is permitted by regulations of the program with a specified time limit.

Officials said that under the circumstances they had decided the request will be honored and a review made of the alleged program violations. Meanwhile the store will be permitted to accept food stamps as usual.

Traffic Mishap, Deaths Well Behind Last Year

Traffic accidents in the Quad-City area jumped to a total of 205 during October—the largest number of any single month so far this year—but the number of persons injured fell off to 121 from 183 injuries during September, according to accident statistics compiled by the Press-Record.

Reports by authorities in the Quad-City area show four fatalities during October, compared to three traffic deaths in the previous month of September. There were four traffic accident deaths during October.

The total number of October accidents was an increase of only five over the September total of 199, but an increase of 34 over the August total of 171.

It also was five less than the 210 accidents reported in October 1966, resulting in 147 injuries.

Greatest improvement in the area's traffic accident record was in the number of fatalities reported this year. Although there were four accident fatalities last month and three in September, the total for the ten months of the year stands at only 20.

Less Fatalities This Year

Last year, by the end of October there were 33 traffic fatalities, a ratio 35% higher than it stands this year. Four more traffic fatalities were reported in November last year and three in December, for a 1966 total of 39 traffic deaths. Accident statistics show this year's Quad-City traffic deaths, compared to those of a year ago, as follows, with this year's death toll quoted first:

January, 1, this year, compared to 2 in January 1966; February, 2 compared to 2 a year ago; March, 2 compared to 4; April, 1 compared to 4; May, 4, compared to 2; June, 1 compared to 3; July, 1 compared to 2; August, 1 compared to 4; September, 3 compared to 5, and October, 4 compared to 4.

The number of accidents had not previously exceeded the 200 mark in any other month of the year prior to October, although 189 were reported in May and 199 again in September. There were 193 accidents during July and 191 in June. A total of 181 accidents were recorded in April, 177 in March, 143 in February, and 170 in January.

Both the accident rate and the fatality record continue to show a trend downward from that of last year. October's 205 accidents brought to 1729 the total number of mishaps during the ten months of this year, compared to 1942 accidents at the same time in 1966.

The 20 fatalities during the ten months of the year so far are 12 less than the same ten-month period a year ago. The injury ratio, however, shows an obvious increase since the 117 persons injured this year were hurt in 1729 accidents, while last year's 1151 were hurt in 1942 accidents.
